

If you have previously downloaded, installed, and activated MATLAB via the campus license, and have a MathWorks account, just log in to that account, verify that it uses your “@colorado.edu” email address and the CU license number 361635. You should be able to download, install, and activate the MATLAB software. Use activation key 03529-67108-00587-96752-37727.

~~~~~

STEP 1: LOG IN TO YOUR ACCOUNT      at      <http://www.mathworks.com>

- If you don't already have an account on that site, click “Create Account” using your @colorado.edu email address, giving “University of Colorado” as the company name, and 80309 as the zip code.
- On the Account Main Page, look in the License Center area of the page, and click on “Manage Licenses”.
- On the upper right corner of this page, click “Add License” or “Associate me with a license”. If asked whether you want to use a license number or an activation key, choose license number, and enter 361635. If an activation key is requested, enter 03529-67108-00587-96752-37727.
- In most cases, you will be associated with the license immediately. Occasionally, a manual verification is required, and can take three business days to complete.

STEP 2: DOWNLOADING

After logging in to or creating your MathWorks account (or creating one using the steps above), download the software from the MathWorks website to your computer's Desktop.

- Click “Support”, then “Download Product Updates”, then “Download”.
- Select the appropriate platform and product(s) and click “continue” to download.
- Downloading may take a while, depending on your network speed. The download agent will ask you where you want the files to be downloaded to; if in doubt, choose your Desktop, where the file will be easy to find, to use, and afterwards to discard.

STEP 3: INSTALL AND ACTIVATE

- This process may also take some time, but will only require your attention at the very beginning and very end of the process.
- If/when asked for a license number, use 361635. If/when asked for an activation key, enter 03529-67108-00587-96752-37727, and click “Next”.
- If the computer isn't connected to the Internet you may have to enter this File Installation Key manually: 64447-03840-40147-40821-17530-14551-64035-11702-16495-35112-64790-47588

If you trouble with this process, please contact Mathworks technical support via their support website at <http://www.mathworks.com/support/>.